HELP!!

Come One, Come ALL!! We Need YOU!!!

Any organization is only as strong as its members are active and we need ALL members to be involved to fully reach our potential. We all joined the Prime Timers to make new friends and share good times. Can ANYTHING in life be as rewarding as making good friends?

There are so many ways you can help the organization achieve its goals while making lots of new friends. You can volunteer to help at the Monthly Meetings by becoming a Greeter to new members, become a Buddy to them, introducing them to other members and calling them to encourage their attendance at the meetings.

You can make other calls from the comfort of your homes, touching base with members who haven't been attending for whatever reasons. Oftentimes members can't make meetings or parties because of new health issues in their lives and it's good to let them know their friends miss them and look forward to their return.

Other ways you can help are by serving on Membership, Program and Hospitality Committees, helping to organize our trips and annual parties, volunteering in the office, submitting articles and photos for the Prologue, offering rides to members without transportation, hosting Potpourris in your home or elsewhere, or organizing a new activity for Prime Timers to share in.

There are many opportunities to get to know your fellow Prime Timers better. Ask not what the Prime Timers can do for you....you know the rest!

Please submit articles for the June Prologue by May 21 to Boston Prime Timers, President Steve Vorenberg and Treasurer Kerry Marshall, were married April 3rd at the Arlington Street Church in Boston.

FROM THE BOARD
THE PRESIDENT’S MESSAGE

In the last Prologue, I explained how I got to be president. This time I'd like to explain how I really got here.

I've known since I was a teenager that I'm gay. A little under five years ago, I was living in a marriage with my wife of 39 years, feeling like life was basically done for me. I knew perhaps hundreds of people, but I considered almost all of them acquaintances, not friends. Loneliness finally drove me to make the move to come out. Telling why I stayed in that relationship for 39 years is a story for another time.

I told my therapist that I didn't see that where this could all lead. Her response was "You're not dead yet, are you?" Looking back, I see now that I did know what I wanted, but hadn't been taking the steps needed to make my dreams come true.

I wanted a lover, but equally important, I wanted friends, preferably gay friends. Soon after coming out, I googled "gay Boston" to see what kind of social life I could create. Boston Prime Timers was prominent among the hits and looked like just what I needed. I came to my first meeting cold, knowing not a soul. I sat in with Sam's check-in circle and told my story, even though I was feeling like a freak for being the newly-out old guy. I was made to feel welcome and supported. I especially remember Gordon Burns taking me aside and offering me help and support, though others were friendly too.

I felt awkward at first coming to meetings, but I kept coming. I met more people at each one, and some guys started to become friends. Awesome! I went to opera showings at Mike Turner's, and met more guys. Wonderful! I joined the AIDS walk with Bernie Michels, and I took John Morrel's hikes during one summer. More friends! By chance at one meeting I spotted the flyer for GAYLA, the gay men's week at Ferry Beach in Maine. I went to that and was immersed in the love and support of my gay fellows for a full week. It was the best week of my life!

After hanging out at meetings and going to Prime Timer events for a couple of years, I was asked if I was interested in being on the board. Yes, I ran, but I had the distinction of being the only candidate ever to lose an election to the board. A vacancy appeared in the space of a few weeks, and I was appointed to fill the chair. I became the treasurer at my first meeting, a position I held until February this year. I was finally elected to the board this year, and was elected president at the February board meeting.

Why am I telling you all this? It's part of my theme – get involved! The rewards are worth the risks. Come to meetings if you are able, and make the effort to talk to someone you don't know. Or help out and be a buddy or greeter for the club. As a greeter, your commitment is to make one newcomer welcome at one meeting – not much, but a good place to start. As a buddy, we assign you a new member to help along during his first months and make him feel welcome – a little more of a commitment, but one with potentially more rewards.

What do you enjoy doing with others – movies, dining, theater, concerts, hiking, sports? Attend a Prime Timer event like that. There isn't one? Help organize it! This is a great way to meet people and has been the foundation of the closest friendships I've made here. Don't know where to start? Ask for help – talk to me or any board member.

You can also help the club remain healthy by helping out in the office. That involves taking calls, handling the mail, tallying the responses for our events, and more. We'll help you get started.

So there you have it – take that step. You'll be glad you did. Steve Vorenberg

AIDS WALK

2010 Boston Prime Timers AIDS Walk Team

CELEBRATE SPRING WITH A WALK

Please join our team for the AIDS Walk on Sunday, June 5. You can both help prevent the transmission of HIV and celebrate Spring at the same time. The weather is often gorgeous, and the route of the walk, through the Back Bay and along the Charles River, is magnificent. There is no better way to experience the beauty of Boston.

We will gather together for a leisurely breakfast at 9AM and then join the other walkers at 10 AM, heading west. We will cross the Charles at the BU bridge, return east on the Cambridge side, cross again at the Mass Avenue bridge, and end up at the Hatch Shell. Along the way we will get much encouragement with many people cheering us on. At the end we will be greeted with food and entertainment.

If you can't walk the whole distance, that is fine. Walk as far as you can and then jump on the Green Line or a bus. Last year I had to do that myself. Even if you don't walk, you can still sponsor a walker by making a contribution to his pledge sheet--$50 suggested.

Last June we had ten walkers and raised $940 for the battle against AIDS. I expect that we will do better this year. Call me, Bernie Michels, at 617-625-1952, or see me at the May meeting, or email me at bernardmichels@yahoo.com Bernie Michels
